

500 Cattle Will Be Bought In Randall During Coming Week

Five County Set Up Will Look After Program

REQUEST FOR MORE

Drouth Territory Has New Buying Cattle Project

Cattle buying has been resumed in the drouth affected district of Northwest Texas, in which Randall county is located. A quota of 500 has been assigned to Randall. Whether a larger quota will be added has not been announced by those in charge of the buying program. One buying crew will operate in five counties, including Randall, Castro, Deaf Smith, Potter and Oldham. It is likely that about one week will be given to each of the counties. The schedule for buying is not worked out, but will probably be announced today or tomorrow.

This new buying schedule will not take care of all the cattle which the farmers had hoped to dispose of in Randall county, and will cause considerable confusion in arranging a schedule for the buyers so as to take care of those who are wishing to dispose of their cattle.

The additional quota of cattle to be bought by the government was added after the farmers made most urgent appeal that more cattle must be bought by the government or they would die should the winter be extremely cold. Breeders will continue to urge that the buying program be continued until general rains assure wheat pasturage for the cattle that remain in this section.

The plan for buying and the schedule cannot be worked out until definite word has been received from the buying crew which will work in the five counties.

No Information Received Here On 1935 Census Count

Many farmers are interested in the new agricultural census which will be taken the first of 1935 by the federal government.

Congressman Marvin Jones has notified all those interested to file their applications with their County Democratic Chairman, and that the appointment for each county will be made sometime after Nov. 15th.

Clyde W. Warwick, Democratic County Chairman, has received applications from about a dozen who are seeking appointment, but so far has received no word from Congressman Jones as to the next step in the appointment. It is not known how many will be appointed for each county, what the pay will be, or how long a time will be allowed for taking the census.

Mr. Jones is in New York on a speaking tour, but is expected back in Amarillo late next week.

Brent C. Taylor Died Yesterday at the Family Home

Brent Crawford Taylor, 69, died yesterday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the family home following an illness of several months.

The body is being held at the Grigg-Thompson Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements, which will be likely be announced for Friday.

Mr. Taylor has been a citizen of Canyon for 40 years. He has engaged in various lines of business, and always taken an active interest in all civic affairs of the community.

Surviving is the widow, and five children, Mrs. Mildred Sullivan of Canyon, Mrs. E. R. Bailey of Muleshoe, Mrs. Florence Stephenson of Green Gap, N. M., Miss Eva Ruth Taylor of Canyon, and B. C. Taylor, Jr., of Canyon.

Mr. Taylor was a member of the Baptist Church. The funeral will be held at the Church, conducted by Rev. J. H. Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cooper and family visited over the week end with relatives and friends in Hedley, McLean and Mobette.

Proposed Merger of Banks Is Considered

It is understood generally in Canyon that considerable thought has been given toward the consolidation of the two banking institutions in the city. Officers of both banks have acknowledged that such action has been under way for some time, working with the idea that a plan could be arranged whereby the banking facilities and needs of the county could be served by one bank under one management, rather than operating the two institutions separately as is now the case.

Officers of the two banks state that the volume of desirable loan business offered them these days is not large enough to make it very profitable for two banking institutions. Officers of each bank state that each institution has had for some time an unusual amount of idle cash on hand.

The News joins with leading business men of Canyon in congratulating the banking institutions for the splendid service they have rendered and are rendering the community; the sound banking policies used in each institution; and whether or not the present merger plan develops, that either as a single institution, or the two separate ones as now organized, will continue to render efficient service to the community.

Relief Office Has Funds For Work Program Here

Government Feed Loans to Continue

Announcement Is Made From Washington Regarding Loans

Stockmen in drouth areas who cannot obtain credit from other sources will continue to be eligible for emergency feed loans for their foundation herds this winter provided they keep their credit in good standing and show their intention of repaying the loans. W. I. Myers, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration said Monday.

"The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Offices," Governor Myers said, "have made loans in the primary drouth areas without requiring chattel mortgages in order to make funds available quickly to save hundreds of thousands of cattle and other stock; but they have done so with every expectation that the money will be repaid."

"The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration has dealt leniently with such borrowers; but each loan case has been carefully inspected. Farmers have shown their good faith by co-operating and not attempting to get loans where they were not needed, but of course we cannot expect credit will continue to be available unless borrowers keep the loans in good standing and show their intention of paying the debts."

"The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Offices are the only source of these unsecured emergency feed loans. They are disbursed from a part of the drouth appropriation approved June 19, 1934 and are not made through any of the permanent credit institutions under the Farm Credit Administration."

"Up to November 1," Governor Myers continued, "over 191,000 farmers and stockmen obtained these initial emergency loans to feed their stock and about 134,000 supplemental advances have been made, for a total of $2,400,000, out of the allocation of $96,785,000 for such purposes. On an average about $1,250,000 a week is being loaned to feed cattle and other stock; and during the winter additional credit will be available as needed if the borrowers keep their credit good and show their intention of paying their debts."

All of the emergency feed loans are being advanced in monthly allowances based on the amount required.

FIRST STATE MONEY ADDED TO FERA FUND

Will Continue Work on Unfinished CWA Projects

COMMODITIES COME

Goodnight Trail to Be Completed in Near Future

With the receipt of the first state money in several weeks, H. S. Strain, County Administrator, stated that the local situation is being well cared for, and that all who are qualified under the strict rules of the government are either receiving direct aid, or are given work-relief.

The government has set a maximum of $20 per month for each man on the relief work program, and the local administrator is keeping well within the limits as prescribed.

Surplus commodity shipments are beginning to arrive, which will be used to supplement the money which is being given the men for work. Among the commodities received are 198 cases of canned meat. There is in transit 3,000 pounds of potatoes. A shipment of rice is expected in the near future. These commodities will be supplemented by other shipments as the winter progresses.

A survey has been made of the feed situation through relief agencies, but nothing definite has been received regarding the possibilities of distributing feed this year, which was a large item last year. There is no surplus feed in any section of the country to make possible this sort of distribution for the coming winter.

All of the money used in the local office during the past few months has been federal FERA funds. The sale of additional state bonds made possible the warrant which was received Monday.

The only work project under way in Randall county has been the Goodnight Trail. This project has taken all of the labor available since last year. The new course of caliche which is being spread has nearly reached the Tierra Blanca, and about two more weeks will be required to complete all work. The

Four Men Caught in Fracases From North End County

John Belt and Clifford Barrett are in jail charged with robbing the Dryden Filling Station in the north part of the county last Friday. Barrett escaped but was caught Tuesday.

Jess and Jimmie Slade were arrested Tuesday for disturbance of El Taos, charged with breaking out glass in the doors.

Timber Creek Bridge Completed In Palo Duro State Park

The bridge over Timber Creek in the Palo Duro State Park was opened to traffic Friday. It was originally intended that the opening would be postponed until Thanksgiving when the members of the State Parks Board and superintendents of all State Parks would visit here.

The bridge is the largest one so far constructed within the Park. It is 40 feet long, and 24 feet wide. It is 12 feet high, and will take care of the heaviest rains which might hit that section of the Park. With the opening of this bridge which is three miles from the Park entrance, there is now completed eight miles of scenic drive.

Major E. A. Kingsley, superintendent, is planning for an interesting program for the entertainment of the visitors when they come to the Park for Thanksgiving.

No Changes in Tax Set Up Until Feb. 8

New Law Not Effective Until That Time—Split Payments

Tax payers will not receive the benefits of the discount law passed by the special session of the legislature before the fall of 1933, states Tax Collector R. N. Barnett. The law does not become effective until Feb. 8, 1935, and therefore will not apply to the collections to be made this year.

Many tax payers are confused in regard to the terms of the new law, and the Tax Collector's office has received many requests for information since the adjournment of the special session Saturday night.

Likewise the law remitting the penalty and interest on delinquent taxes is not effective until February 8, 1935. The tax collectors of the state are forced to add all penalties and interest which have accumulated upon delinquent taxes until the law becomes effective on Feb. 8th.

Those who would take advantage of the split tax law must pay the first installment on or before Nov. 30th.

All taxes are due and payable on or before January 31st of each year, unless the split tax plan is used.

Mrs. R. H. Bratcher, Mrs. E. B. Harvey, Fred Bauer, E. J. Bauer and family, Frederick Spiser, and Ardelle, Luella, and Lula Spiser attended the Armistice Day program at Happy Sunday.

Armistice Day Is Celebrated Here In Quiet Manner

Armistice Day was celebrated over the week end in a very quiet manner in Canyon.

About 40 ex-service men and members of their families were special guests at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning where an Armistice Day program had been arranged by Rev. Chas. L. Dickey.

A picnic had been planned for the afternoon, but owing to the cold weather, the members of the Legion went to the Legion Hall where a picnic dinner was served for those who attended the services.

Monday was observed as a holiday by a large number of the business houses in Canyon.

The Palo Duro Post had voted last week not to put on any sort of celebration this year owing to the fact that it is being called upon in many cases of charity. The expense of a celebration will be placed in the charity fund of the local post.

Light Shower on Tuesday Brings Cooler Weather

A light shower of .10 of an inch fell in Canyon Tuesday. Rain to the south was heavier, and according to reports the wheat was benefited by the rain in the south part of the county.

Rain so far this year has amounted to only 11.71 inches; about half of the normal rainfall for this section.

After the smoke of ballots cleared away last week, the Democratic party was winner in a most unprecedented manner, and far over and above the prediction of the most ardent Democratic leaders. The popularity of President Roosevelt was brought into question during the closing days of the campaign. Republican leaders trusting that the President had lost his hold upon the people. The election proved just the opposite. Never has there been a more popular President, all due to the fact that he is honestly trying to do something for the nation. The next congress will be more largely in control of the Democratic party. The responsibility is great. The dangers of too much power is well realized by the President. That he will continue the fearless leadership he assumed at the beginning of his term of office, no one doubts. Whereas the nation was bewildered into blindly following the President in March 1933, they have every confidence in his honesty of purpose; they are firmly convinced that the Republican party is devoid of leadership, excepting those leaders who are dominated by selfish purpose; they are convinced that the only way out of the national crisis is to depend upon the man who has so far shown himself fearless in taking a stand and assuming such a leadership that the people want. The Republicans lost in 1934 because all they promised was to continue to hold office so long as the people would allow them.

Several prominent citizens have highly complimented The News on the editorial of last week regarding the littering of Canyon with bills. At least six sets of bills are thrown on the lawns of Canyon every week. Not half of them ever get inside the homes. The balance are blown over the city, to make unsightly the entire town. One citizen put the case this way: "If advertising is worth anything, the advertiser should think enough of it to pay postage and let it come through the mails, or through the newspaper." Another prominent citizen stated: "I refuse to trade with any firm which litters up the town with hand bills." Of course, if the bills were of any particular benefit to the people, they would not litter up the town, as they would be taken into the home and there read by all members of the family. Unfortunately, this is not their fate. Those who pay for printing bills which will not reach half of the people, since not half of the bills ever reach the homes. Many towns have passed strict ordinances against the distribution of bills, for the simple reason that the larger portion of them go to increase the rubbish of the cities.

The gossip racketeer has taken a prominent place in eastern cities. The defamer who wishes to injure his competitor or his enemy or any product, may hire gossips to go out and spread slander. The gossips are expert in covering their tracks so as to avoid prosecution. They plant the seed, and allow the local gossips to do the dirty work. This makes the work of the gossip mongers doubly easy since there are many citizens in every locality who pride themselves in their truthfulness, honesty and integrity, but who take the greatest of pleasure in defaming the character of individuals and institutions whom they do not like. The New York World-Telegram has exposed this racket, which it claims is bringing riches to the operators, and wrecking disaster upon many sound and honorable firms and their products. Those who deal in gossip should bear in mind that they are engaged in a dastardly performance which is as criminal in nature as the highwayman, or the bank robber.

It is to be regretted that the legislature did not pass an appropriation for the 1936 Texas Centennial. The ten million dollar deficit, and the unfortunate fight upon the location of the Centennial are responsible for the defeat of the appropriation. It would appear that the mistake was made in not seeking the appropriation before the location was chosen. This would have kept the disappointed towns from attempting the defeat of the measure. However, the legislature realizes that some tax measures must be passed before any appropriation bill could possibly be passed. This is the fly in the ointment, since the people of Texas have been demanding lower taxes in spite of their desire to see that the 100th anniversary of the state is properly celebrated.

Senator Norris of Nebraska is a legislative crusader. While a progressive Republican, he has voted with the Democrats about as often as he has with the Republicans. He has written many of the progressive measures into the national law. In his home state he declared for a small, one-house legislature. He talked for the measure, and

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

What Happened to the Trojans and Wolverines This Year? . . . With Tom Yawkey, Baseball's Croesus, Money Is No Object

HOW the mighty have fallen! For years any mention of Southern California or Michigan conjured up visions of mighty grid juggernauts, their paths strewn with the crushed hopes of opposition teams. Year after year many of the finest grid units in the country served as doormats for the dreaded Trojans and Wolverines, which invariably wound up among the first half dozen teams at the season's end.

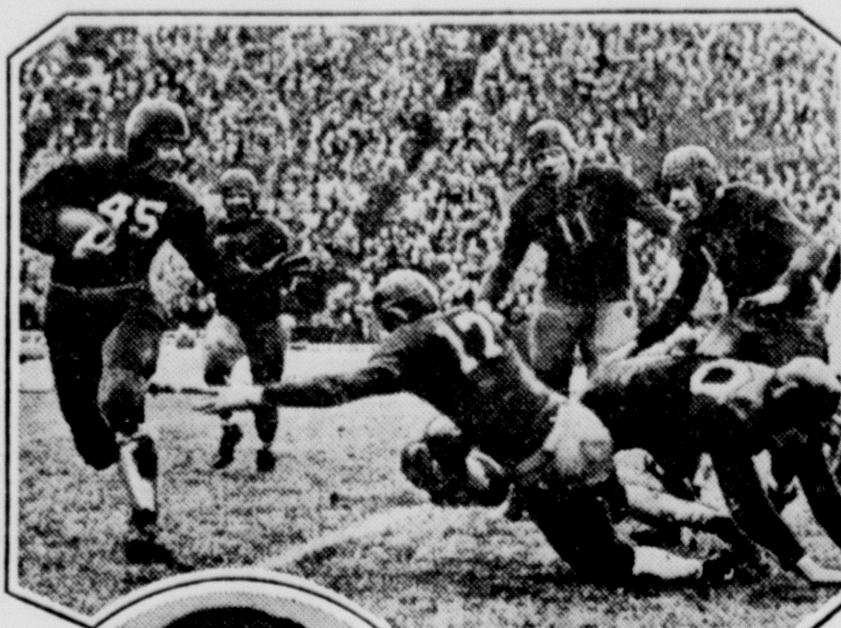

But this year the picture is different. U. S. C. and Michigan are strangely absent from the list of Pacific Coast and Big Ten leaders. Harry Kipke's boys seem to be trailing far behind Minnesota and Illinois, current big shots of the Big Ten. Last year Minnesota was just another grid outfit, but Bernie Bierman, ably assisted by "Pug" Lund and other artists, seems to have injected into the team that divine spark that makes a winner.

On the other hand, Bob Zuppke of Illinois has had to work with far lighter, but very intelligent material. The Illini, led by the scintillating Jack Beynon, have a bag full of trick plays—which they use with telling success—and a surplus of what is known as intestinal fortitude.

Out on the Pacific slope we find Washington State, with its Burl Bufkin and Art Ahonen, and Stanford, with Bobby Grayson as one of its main threats, raising hob with the opposition. Santa Clara has also made itself known in no uncertain terms.

Perhaps the Wolves and Gophers will unearth a few "Red Granges" in 1935 who will bring them back in the grid spotlight, but they seem to have lost their cues this year.

If an All-American Santa Claus is to be named this year, it occurs to us that Tom Yawkey, youthful owner of the Boston Red Sox, should get the post. In his efforts to put the Hub back on the baseball map, young Yawkey has spent over $3,000,000! And baseball's just a hobby with him. If the game got to be an obsession, the figure would probably resemble a war debt.

Yawkey comes honestly by his diamond leanings; his father was once owner of the Detroit Tigers. And Boston appreciates what the sportsman is doing, as record attendance figures for last season indicate.

Yawkey's capacious money pouch has been instrumental in whipping together a team feared through the entire circuit. But his prize package, a present for Beantown's predominantly Irish population, he saved for this year—the purchase of Joe Cronin, former manager of the Washington Senators.

And it's rumored that the Yawkin purse strings haven't yet been tied; that Jimmy Fox's chubby face may be seen around the vicinity of first base in Fenway Park next year. And that, we might add, would be rather—or rather, rawhaw—a big break for Boston.

The railroads are making a bid for a return of business after having lost a large part to busses and trucks. Speedy engines are being built which will break all records in railroad transportation. It is generally admitted that the railroads must show more speed, getting people there in a hurry, no matter if they have nothing to do after they reach their destination. Going places in a hurry is the national habit. It was thought a few years ago that the depression would slow things down, but this does not seem to be the case.

Marvin Jones has withdrawn as a candidate for Speaker of the House in the national congress. He can be of greater service to his people by remaining at his post as chairman of the Committee on Agriculture. The honor of being Speaker will probably remain in Texas, since Sam Rayburn seems to be the outstanding candidate, and is backed by all congressmen of the Southwest.

Buffaloes Down The Panhandle Aggies Friday

Defense of Both Teams Is Feature of Game

Last Friday the West Texas Buffaloes journeyed over to Goodwell and trounced the Panhandle Aggies of Coach Leon Fields 14 to 6 in a game featured by the defense of both teams and by the six inch cover of dust on the gridiron.

After a few minutes of play both teams were choked up so that neither could be at their best. The Buffaloes scored early in the first quarter when Captain John Walker blocked two punts.

Panhandle was kicking from the 50 yard line when Capt. Walker broke through to block the first punt which was covered by Lee on the Aggies' 10. Elmore then tried another punt which was also blocked by Walker and covered on the four yard line.

Then after three line tries had proved futile, Red Holston finally plunged off tackle for the counter. Teague converted for the extra point.

Again in the second quarter Holston went nine yards for a touchdown as the Buffs demonstrated their best blocking of the game, but an offside penalty nullified the score. The Aggies rose to throw back Holston, Teague, and Van Noy on the second attempt, and the Aggies got the ball on downs.

Early after the second half opened, Elzell Champion, Buff half-back, intercepted a flat zone pass on his 40 yard line and raced 60 yards for the second counter. Teague kicked the extra point.

Several more times in the game the Buffaloes marched up the Aggie five yard line, but were unable to push across a score. Passes played a major part in the Buff offense as they completed five passes out of ten tries for 55 yards and five first downs.

Both teams played great defensive football with the Buffaloes' offense clearly superior.

BUFFALOES WILL MEET NEW COMPETITION IN KANSAS

First Time Buffs Have Invaded Kansas Territory

The Buffaloes left yesterday by bus for Atchison, Kansas, to meet their most formidable opponent of the year in the St. Benedicts Ravens of Coach Larry (Moon) Mullins.

This marks the first time that a Buffalo team has made an invasion into Kansas, and the first outstanding intersectional trip that a West Texas team has ever made.

Highlight of Season
As the highlight of their season the Buffs have as their opponents a team which has gained recognition all over the country. To date, the Ravens are leading the 45 teams that are considered major teams in the Missouri Valley territory, with 137 points. This territory includes the members of the Big Six, Missouri, Central and Kansas, and several others.

Coach Larry Mullins has material to burn, with 70 boys on his squad. With only 20 boys on his entire squad, Coach Baggett may find man-power a vital question. However, every man is in the peak of condition, and able to hold his own for sixty full minutes.

Heavy Line
The Ravens present a very colorful team with a fast-charging, heavy line and a versatile backfield, which has speed, power, and deception. In running up enough points to lead the Missouri Valley in scoring, the Ravens have excited comment by all the sports writers with the versatility of their backfield. Bud O'Neal, Raven half back, was given All-American rating last year by Christy Walsh. That is something that rarely happens to a minor college player, but O'Neal can do anything with a football.

Then Coach Mullins, who was a full-back of All-American rating under Rockne, rates Gene Neff, Raven full, as the finest fullback he has seen.

To top that off, Bob Cox, another player of All-American rating, scouted the St. Benedicts-Ft. Hays game for West Texas, and declared Weiffenbach as a better player than either of the other two.

The first meeting, held at Mrs. J. A. Hill's Friday, October 5th, was just a get-together meeting to make plans to bring these mothers together and to arouse interest in the club for others. Refreshments of grape juice and wafers were served.

The second meeting was held November 2nd at Cousins Hall, the members being guests of Miss McMurtry. It was entirely a social gathering. Miss Richardson told an interesting story to the guests. Spiced tea and wafers were served.

Wine, women and song was once looked upon as a dangerous combination, but that was before automobiles were invented.

Let us not forget that a good deal of our prosperous appearance is due to driving a mortgaged car over a bonded road.

Hard times are those when we save our money because we are jobless and are jobless because we don't save our money.

The political bee usually buzzes loudest around the candidate for office but it is always the public that gets stung.

Modern Successor To The Blazing Log!

Since man first discovered how to make fire, the blazing log has been a symbol of warmth and good cheer. In the circle of its glowing flame, mankind has found protection and comfort.

Today its modern counterpart—the Gas Radiant Heater—is providing warmth, comfort, and good cheer in thousands of homes. At mid-day or mid-night it's always ready to warm hands and hearts. Just the touch of a match and it's "on"—just the turn of a valve and it's "off."

They're beautifully styled for every mantel or fireplace—and priced for every purse.

Amarillo Trims Lubbock 25 to 0 In Grid Contest

A devastating Golden Sandstorm out of Amarillo overpowered a valiant Lubbock eleven Monday afternoon in a District 1 gridiron classic that drew more than 15,000 spectators. The final score was 25 to 0.

Temporary bleachers at Tech field could not take care of the overflow crowd and hundreds were standing around the field during the game.

With Harlow and Stidger carrying most of the mail the Sandies cut loose with a display of power that has seldom been equaled in District 1 circles. Stidger scored all four of Amarillo's touchdowns. The Amarillo backs worked smoothly behind a powerful line which opened huge holes and almost completely stopped the Westerners' attack. White, highly touted Lubbock back, was covered so rapidly and so fiercely that he could show little offensive strength but he turned in a beautiful defensive game.

ETIQUETTE

Q. When a man and a woman pass on the street, who should speak first?

A. The woman, unless they are intimate friends; in that case, it doesn't matter.

Q. Is it all right for a hostess to let her guests plan their own entertainment?

A. Yes, if she knows that they are acquainted and congenial.

Q. May one put the elbows on the dinner table?

A. Never while eating; it is permissible between courses or while lingering over after-dinner coffee.

Q. When the girl next to whom a man is seated at dinner, arrives late, should the man rise when she comes to the table?

A. Yes, and especially, if she is the man's dinner partner.

THE TEACHER'S SIDE

Wednesday morning when the freshman home economics girls were asked to remove the skillets, eggs, and onions from around their necks, the senior home economics girls thought that the teachers were surely getting queer, not to let the freshmen be initiated.

Initiations, of course, are funny or at least amusing, and sometimes embarrassing, and there is no real harm in carrying one out in an orderly manner. There is no use, however, in violating school regulations, by creating so much noise in the halls that school work is hindered. Then, when that's done, there's no need for getting "peevy" at the teachers who put a stop to it.

Hampton and Leslie Lisle and Wesley Cox spent Friday night in Hereford.

Mable Schmitz visited Evelyn Van Swearingen in Hereford during the week end.

Special Armistice Program Given By American Legion

The American Legion gave a special Armistice program Friday morning, Nov. 9, at 11:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The fifth, sixth, and seventh grades came over to listen to the program.

The audience stood in reverence as the colors were borne in by Andy Walsh and Guy Harp with Allen Farlow and Tom Knighton as color guards. This was followed by a prayer by Rev. Charles L. Dickey.

Mr. Dickey led the student body in singing national anthems. Mr. John B. Pope then introduced the speaker of the occasion, Mr. Dan F. Sanders.

He presented his subject by saying, "I am here for a few minutes to talk to you of Patriotism, Education, and Citizenship, from the viewpoint of the American Legion as an organization and of its members individually." He then explained patriotism, education, and citizenship.

Mr. Sanders said that when we went into the World War, we were supposed to be an educated country, but many of the soldiers could not write or read enough to understand orders; hence death was resulting.

"To obtain ideal self-government our young people must be urged and encouraged to attend school and apply themselves to their studies and duties, and that is why I am here today—to try to make you realize the importance of obtaining a thorough education, regardless of what your handicaps may be. This is a duty you owe to yourselves, your town, State and Nation—and you are not showing yourselves loyal, patriotic American Citizens unless you avail yourselves of the opportunities you now have, by applying yourselves to the limit of your ability to take over, in the course of time, the control of schools themselves, the City, State, and National Governments.

The American Legion classes the veterans who fought for our country during the World War, and the public school teachers of to-day as doing a similar kind of patriotic work.

"While one was the war-time defender of our nation, the other is the peace-time defender of the nation. And, of the two, though the veteran offered life itself for his country, we feel somewhat that the latter is of the greatest importance, for by their teaching, we hope some day that the people of our land will become educated to such a degree that there will never again be needed a "war-time" defender.

Mr. Sanders said that there are five outstanding qualities each one should possess: Honor, Courage, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. "Honor to think and to know in your own minds and heart that which is right; Courage to do what you know to be right; Scholarship that you may so instill the principles of knowledge and right in your own hearts and souls that you may lead those who come after you, that you will have been of invaluable Service to your Nation, through your Service to your fellow-man."

Hereford Pep Club Entertains Canyon With Feast Friday

Following the Canyon-Hereford football game last Friday, the Hereford pep squad entertained the Canyon football squad and pep squad and the Hereford football squad.

The pep squads assembled in the study hall where later each Canyon football player was escorted by a Hereford player. Hereford pep squad members served a feast of hot chocolate and cheese sandwiches.

Evelyn Van Swearingen, president of the pep squad, then took charge and introduced the entertainers who gave a tap dance and a solo, "You Have to Be a Football Hero."

After the program, the captains, coaches, and queens of the football squads and the presidents and sponsors of the pep squads were introduced and called upon to make impromptu speeches.

Grade Gridsters Meet Freshmen In 6 to 6 Tie

Butler kicks a beautiful kick to midfield where Callihan receives the ball only to be smeared by the husky seventh graders.

Eighth grade's ball—first and ten. Roberts takes the ball, sweeps to the left, shifts to the right—he is loose—he is still at large—no—he is thrown for a five yard loss.

So was the first few moments of play between the seventh and eighth grades in a thrilling tilt on the gridiron, Tuesday, November 6.

The teams were evenly matched even though the eighth grade players were strengthened by four ninth grade gridsters. The game resulted in a 6 to 6 tie.

The eighth grade's score came in the first quarter, when Fairy Hill plunged his way over the goal line after several successful line plunges.

The seventh grade's counter came in the second quarter as a result of Butler's beautiful display of broken field running.

Callihan's tackle proved disastrous to J. D. Breiting in the third period when he received a broken leg. This injury added to the total of five mishaps to Canyon Public School students this season.

Freshman Home Ec. Club Entertained

Saturday, November 10, the first year home economics girls entertained with a party in the home economics rooms, under the supervision of Miss Pannier Sue Brasuel.

Games were played and refreshments of punch, sandwiches and cookies were served to the following: Marie O'Donald, George Vandergrieff, Mary Horn, James Butler, Helen Johnson, Douglas Brasuel, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fox, Mr. John B. Pope, Annie Mae Spencer, Wayne Marsh, Mary Charlotte Word, Sarah Thompson, Billy Bewley, Billy Black, George Mayfield, Helen Hurst, Polly Little, Zella Laughery, M. E. Bagwell, O. D. Brieling, Lula Marie Ellison, Glena B. Eastwood, and Glenn Persons.

IN APPRECIATION

The pep girls wish to take this method of thanking the following Canyon citizens for taking pep girls in their cars to the annual Canyon-Hereford football clash:

Messrs. Bradford, Kleinschmidt, Pierle, Ingham, McBride, Flesher, Usery, Bellah, Rev. Dickey, and Mesdames Carl Hair and Frank Hicks.

'35 Eagles to Play Amarillo Yannigans Here Tomorrow

The Eagles of next year will test their strength and skill against the powerful Amarillo Yannigans here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Eight of this year's regulars will see the game from the sidelines, while the reserves will take their places. The regulars of this year's squad who will not be eligible, include Captain Curtis Ellison, Hampton Lisle, Kenneth Black, Edward Brooks, Wade Johnson, Roland Black, O. L. Solomon, and Willard Childers.

The Eagles lost to the Yannigans last year by a score of 12 to 0 in a post-season game.

Should C. H. S. Have Boy Peps?

What is Canyon High School's reaction toward the idea of forming a boys' pep squad? The following thumbnail interviews give the gist of the general thought:

Mickey Schmitz, girls' pep leader, said, "The idea is a keen one, and I am in favor of it. Now, if they could get twenty boys and dress them in white, with our girls in the White Pep Squad, and forty girls in the Purple Peps, we could really have a peppy bunch."

Wilma Price, the other pep leader exclaimed, "Say, that would be keeno, and we could really back those Eagles."

Carolyn Mayfield, substitute pep leader, put her thoughts in the following words, "We need those boys to help us."

Coach Jones answered the reporter's question by saying "A boys' pep squad would boost Canyon High School, and help pep up the school as a whole."

Hampton Lisle, Eagle player, said, "Okay, we ought to have one."

O. M. Solomon, another Eagle player, agreed by saying, "It is all right; it would be very fine, I think."

Bill Cone says, "The idea is a good one, but should have been developed before the football season was over."

Superintendent Says—

The faculty of the Canyon Public Schools wish to invite those interested in education and educational progress to become a part of their study group that has under consideration the curriculum and its changes. The recent economic and social problems that have arisen in the last few years have called for a new kind of life for the American people and the American nation. The new deal is trying to find the answers to these problems from the standpoint of the government. Society is groping through a darkness of disillusionment and uncertainty trying to find the way back to social stability.

There are many who claim that the schools have failed in their mission as a social institution, others are as staunch in their contention that the schools are as strong as the society that supports them.

Many people are saying that the schools are out of date and are teaching antiquated doctrines and subjects. The same critics also claim that the school should revise its present curriculum to meet the new moral, social, and political issues of a changing world.

The recent child labor law and general unemployment has flooded the public schools of the United States with hundreds of thousands of new students. There are over five million students in the high schools of our country today.

Some twenty million American youths from six to eighteen years of age have been liberated from work and have only their schooling to occupy their time. Never before in the history of the world has the youth of the world had so much time upon its hands. What is it going to with this time? Society must answer this question through its schools or some other institution.

This and many other present day problems arise to perplex the educators of our country when considering the offering of our public schools. The state of Texas, along with other states and cities, has undertaken a study of the curriculum and its problems. The public school faculty is co-operating in this movement by meeting twice a month for two nad one-half hours at night and studying various phases of the question. Not only educators, but citizens, patrons, and all others who help form social ideals and social thinking should attend these meetings, thereby contributing viewpoints from all walks of life.

Initiation of Home Ec. Pledges Held

The formal initiation was held for the Freshman Home Economics club Tuesday night at 7:30 in the high school home economics room.

They played several games in the gymnasium and then the girls went to the home economics room. They had the usual formal initiation with each girl holding a lighted candle, and saying the pledge.

They were served refreshments of apples and suckers, after which they were given rolling-pins, frying pans, and graters with notes tied on telling what to do next day.

ANOTHER GOAL TO REACH

Ability to make the grades for the honor roll is one thing; doing it is another.

We are nearing the close of the second six weeks. What will your grades be? That depends upon your work. A few students make the honor roll, but more do not. Why? Surely not because they can't. Nearly any students could make A's and B's if he would work and study.

If making the honor roll meant only to get your name in the paper, very few would think it worth the effort. The students who make the best grades are nearly always the most alert, vivacious, and willing students. These characteristics follow them through life, gaining for them social and business positions which the poorer students do not attain.

Opinions of the better students are sought and respected more than are those of their inferiors.

Is it worth your while; is it an aim of yours? If not, better grades, more studying, and more knowledge should be made another goal to reach.

Board Dismisses Schools For Friday, Monday

Make-up Slip Plan Changed for Year By Principal Pope

Make-up slips were one of the greatest questions for the students and Principal John B. Pope when the system used was changed Thursday, November 1, making the make-up slips due the day they are issued.

Formerly make-up slips were due the following Friday after the day they were issued. Because those who had out make-up slips failed to get them in when they were due, the system had to be changed.

Mr. Pope compared the make-up slips question to the building of a structure. When one is building a structure he does not leave out one of the bottom stones to be placed later, but always builds up. Thus one should do in his school work, and not weaken his structure by leaving out one of the bottom stones.

As the period from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock is a remedial period one has the opportunity to make up his work during the school day.

Girl Wonders, Racks, Roving Minds Made By Manual Training

A deafening scraping and buzzing! A pound, pound of hammers! A muddling of brains in the English room above! And the manual training class begins work each day at 9 o'clock.

Every type of article from match holders to tie racks are taking form in the class. Every member in the class must upholster a footstool. Other required articles are book racks and taborettes.

Wednesday is a discussion period and workbook period. Lessons are taken from "Essentials of Woodworking" by Griffith from the high school library.

"We like it" said one of the five girls who is trying her hand at manual training this year, "but we've made some mistakes; one was leaving the glue on the heater and burning it, and another was planing the boards through in trying to square blocks."

"But I don't like it," said Miss Goodrich who shouts at her 9 o'clock English class through the maddening noise and wonders why they never seem to hear an assignment.

HEREFORD WINS SECTION OVER EAGLES FRIDAY

WHITEFACES MAKE THREE TOUCHDOWNS DURING LAST HALF

The Canyon Eagles lost their bid for sectional honors Friday afternoon when they dropped the last game on the present schedule to the Hereford Whitefaces by a score of 24 to 0.

The Eagles were able to hold their opponents to one counter in the first half, but the Whitefaces crossed the Eagles goal line once in the third period and twice in the last period.

The Whitefaces scored early in the first quarter after recovering a fumbled punt in the Eagles territory. They scored again in the third when the Eagles were unable to halt a drive which began on the Whiteface 40 yard stripe and was ended by a 11-yard run. Clayton Hereford end, intercepted a pass and ran for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

A half holiday was given the Canyon Schools and a large number of students and town people accompanied the team.

This game gave Hereford the sectional championship, and was the worst defeat the Eagles have suffered at the hands of the Whitefaces in recent years.

Prichards, Fosters, Blacks; May Their Tribes Increase

Blacks! Prichards! Fosters! Back through the history of the schools these three families have been represented almost every year. These families are all pioneers in this county.

The name Black is certainly represented in the Canyon schools. There are thirteen people who bear this name in both schools. All but two of these are relatives. The fathers of eleven of these are themselves ex-students of the school.

These fathers are also brothers, and sons of Dr. J. M. Black, deceased, who was a trustee of the school for years.

J. C. Black, the oldest of the brothers, has four children in school, Katy Jean, Betty Jo, Billy, and Roland. Both Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Black are exes of this school. Their children in school are Evelyn, in the second grade.

lyn, George and Sanford. Joe Black has one son, Kenneth, a senior, in school now. Bobby Carolyn, and Bradford are the children of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Black.

Two entirely different families of Blacks are also represented. Norma Lee Black, who is in the third grade, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Black. Miss Gwendolyn Black, who is related to neither of the families, is teaching in the fourth grade.

The Prichard family is certainly not slighted, since there are twelve Prichards in school. R. E. Prichard has five children in school. They are Margaret, Nettie Marie, Fannie Mae, Vera, and R. E. Jr. E. C. Prichard has three children in the grade school. Alice, Dorothy, and D. A. Ada Mae, Joe and Carl are Ernest Prichard's children. Hudson Prichard Jr., is the son of A. H. Prichard, an ex-student.

The Foster name is represented nine times in the school. There are three Fosters on the faculty. Miss Lenna Foster, an ex-student and teacher in the Grade School; Mrs. Lee Foster, music teacher in the schools, are cousins by marriage, while Miss Jewell Foster, who teaches in the high school, is of an entirely different family.

Mark A. Foster, an ex-student has two children in school. They are Martha Lee and Claudine. Maris Reed Foster, is the son of an ex-student. D. M. Foster. Mark L. Foster has one daughter in school, Betty Jo. R. E. Foster has two children in school. They are Donnell and Rubye.

Treasury 'Watchdog' Is Washington's Most Unpopular Man

IN Washington, D. C., where "yes men" abound, there's a "no" man who has acquired the reputation of being the most cordially disliked person in the Capital. He is John Raymond McCarl, "Watchdog of the U. S. Treasury."

McCarl's duty as comptroller-general is to keep greedy hands out of the public exchequer. It doesn't matter whether the item involved is a penny or a million dollars; if the shadow of a doubt clouds the validity of an appropriation or an expense account, McCarl goes into his favorite exercise—turning thumbs down.

Government workers high and low have dubbed him the "tin pot sultan," "red tape despot" and "Uncle Sam's hired miser," but the acrimony behind the titles really compliments McCarl.

It bespeaks hair-splitting fidelity to duty and to his public—100,000,000 taxpayers. A popular, half-fellow-well-met, generous type of man would be hardly the kind of individual the people would want in that post.

EXALTED government officials have found McCarl an "old meany." President Coolidge did, for instance, when McCarl refused to sanction a presidential order converting rivers and harbors funds to the relief of tornado-stricken Floridians.

And McCarl cracked down on Hugh Johnson with a firm "no" when the NRA general wanted to bar Ford trucks from government bidding because of Henry Ford's coolness toward the Blue Eagle. The fact that President Roosevelt was understood to be supporting Johnson in this wish failed to deter the Treasury guardian.

When august members of the

U. S. Supreme Court go dry while delivering their weighty decisions, the bottled water they reach for is paid for by themselves. Thus has McCarl ruled.

EVEN Gen. John Pershing, held in awe by thousands of dough boys during the World War, had to dig down in his jeans to pay a Pullman fare which McCarl "disallowed" because the officer could produce no corresponding voucher.

And scores of disgruntled federal employees who tried to get expense money or allowances for "dependent" relatives, gargantuan lunches, exorbitant tips, and personal junkets, learned to their dismay that McCarl was not above keeping an eagle eye on the smaller items.

Once, for instance, he added to the gaiety of the nation when he fought a railroad for months over a 35-cent freight item.

McCarl doesn't worry about the enemies he creates. He doesn't have to. When President Harding appointed him to the job in 1921, the term of office was fixed at 15 years with no possibility of removal except by impeachment.

So John Raymond McCarl can afford to smile tolerantly at the derisive nicknames bandied about the Capital. His job is safe until 1936.

McCARL, a quiet, kindly man, was, back in 1908, a McCook, Neb., attorney. He first came to Washington in 1914 as secretary to Senator George Norris. Four years later, he became executive secretary of the National Republican Congressional Committee.

Then, during the Harding campaign, he was in charge of the Republican Speakers' Bureau. For this work he was rewarded with the comptroller-generalship.

Unlike many other staunch Republicans, McCarl has remained on the job despite the recent Democratic landslide. Which, enlightened taxpayers believe, is as it should be.

Demonstration Teachers, Parents Invited to Meeting

The Canyon P. T. A. will meet Thursday afternoon, November 15th, at 3:30 o'clock in the High School, and Mrs. Ruth Delzell, Potter County Librarian, will speak on "The Library and Open Door." This is a subject of interest to everyone; therefore all parents, as well as the public, are invited to be present at the meeting.

Herschel Coffee of the Music Department of W. T. will present special music, and Mrs. J. A. Hill will present the devotional. The seventh grade will have a short program also.

All the demonstration school teachers and parents are cordially invited to take part in P. T. A. Some very interesting programs are planned for the year and the members of the P. T. A. have expressed the hope that all of the parents and teachers of the demonstration school will be present.

The P. T. A. is sponsoring a play, "Oh, Professor," which will be presented in two or three weeks. Announcement of the date will be made later.

The exhibit will be up for three weeks, and visitors are invited to see it. The pictures are for sale and inquiry may be made at the desk as to their cost.

DOORS OF COLLEGE WILL OPEN AGAIN TO STUDENTS TO ENROLL NOVEMBER 19TH

PLAN INAUGURATED HERE LAST YEAR HAS PROVED POPULAR WITH STUDENTS WHO ARE NOW BETTER ABLE TO MEET SMALLER TUITION PAYMENTS.

The doors of West Texas State Teachers College will open again to new students on November 19th in keeping with the plan inaugurated last year of dividing the long school session into four nine-week periods. Each department of the college on that date will offer beginning courses, allowing the new students to pursue in logical order the succeeding courses during the following nine-week terms.

Secret of Success of Plan

The success of the plan, as evidenced last year in its experimental stage, lies largely in the fact that students are better able to meet the smaller tuition payments at nine-week intervals than the lump sum payments of the old term plan. Enrollment figures also attest to the success of the new plan. At its beginning in the fall of 1933 the enrollment swelled to an all-time record. A similar record for summer enrollment followed the end of last year's long session.

Inaugurated New Plan

This year the even greater enrollment of 1164 students has been made for the fall term. West Texas State Teachers College takes pride in acknowledging the fact that she is a pioneer in the inauguration of the new system, which has spread to many educational institutions this year.

Demand Met For Cheap Lodging

Hand in hand with the new deal in term division has come a demand for cheaper lodging for students. This demand has been met most satisfactorily. The reorganization of Randall Hall for a co-operative home for girls has enabled 106 girls to work an allotted time each day and help defray their lodging expenses. Numerous co-operative homes for boys have been started off the campus with much the same working organization as Randall Hall. In this way students are enabled to reduce living costs to as low, in some instances, as $10 per month.

Additions To The College

New faculty members have been added to various departments of the college; new extension courses are being taught; and one new department has been added, that of archaeology and paleontology. Professor C. S. Johnston, formerly of Oklahoma University, heads the new department. A new course in curriculum building in the elementary and high schools is being offered in the Department of Education.

Prospects for the remainder of a very successful year loom ahead with the beginning of a new quarter in the first semester of school for 1934-'35 for West Texas State Teachers College.

Congress Will Be Back of President in Coming Session

Washington, Nov. 12.—Though many members of the new national congress have been silent on major issues they will face soon, most of them have pledged whole-hearted support to President Roosevelt. This, observers say, indicates their vote will go whichever way Roosevelt's favor seems to lie.

Some of these major issues include the 30-hour week, the veterans bonus and the NRA. Flat money seems impossible.

Democratic strength in Senate and House is about 74 per cent, which can be used to override the President's veto as well as support administration bills.

R. A. Bellah and son, Alfred, left Sunday for a business trip to Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Bauer spent Tuesday in Amarillo.

quired for each head of stock to be fed. The allowances may not exceed $3.00 per head for farm cattle, $1.50 for range cattle, $4.00 for farm workstock, $2.00 for saddle and pack horses, 50 cents for sheep, and 35 cents for goats.

Relief Office

Trail will then be ready for the asphalt topping, if the Highway Department decides to do this work during the winter months. The road will be in excellent shape for topping by that time, but if allowed to stand until spring the heavy traffic will wear away a considerable amount of the caliche.

Mr. Strain has received notice that relief labor may be used on any unfinished CWA projects which were under construction last winter. There are several of these in Randall county including the channel project south of Canyon on the highway; the road running south from the high school; the Ceta canyon road; and a road in the north part of the county. The sanitation project which was under way when CWA was disbanded is being urged as one of the most important of the unfinished projects.

It is well understood that no general work program will be put on by the government this winter, as was the case last winter when millions of men were put to work on various projects. The relief-work program has been recommended as the only undertaking that will be sponsored by the government during the winter.

Mr. Strain expresses himself as being highly pleased with the program as outlined in Randall county, and the results that are being obtained by the men on the work program.

All-America Honors Looming Already for a Number of Football Stars
Performing Brilliantly on American Gridirons

BY PHILIP MARTIN

BEFORE any grid season becomes very old, a handful of footballers throughout the country usually manage, by dint of color and sparkling play, to huddle into the limelight. This is particularly true this year. Some players who are plunging successfully toward All-America posts follow:

Bobby Grayson, Stanford full back, has proven the nucleus of the attack. Tiny Thornhill has built at Stanford. His pile-driving line-plunging has made Stanford the favorite to cop the Pacific Coast Conference crown.

Ted Christoffersen, "aloah" to Hawaii was Washington State's gain. Star of W.S.'s upset victory over Southern California. Ted, a Hawaiian, is a triple-threat back, adept at kicking and passing.

Dark horse in Iowa's promising grid unit, Oze Simmons, dusky Fort Worth product, has been dubbed by Dick Hanley the greatest player he ever has seen. The coach at Northwestern, against which Oze averaged six yards a crack, predicted the colored lad would probably outshine Red Grange.

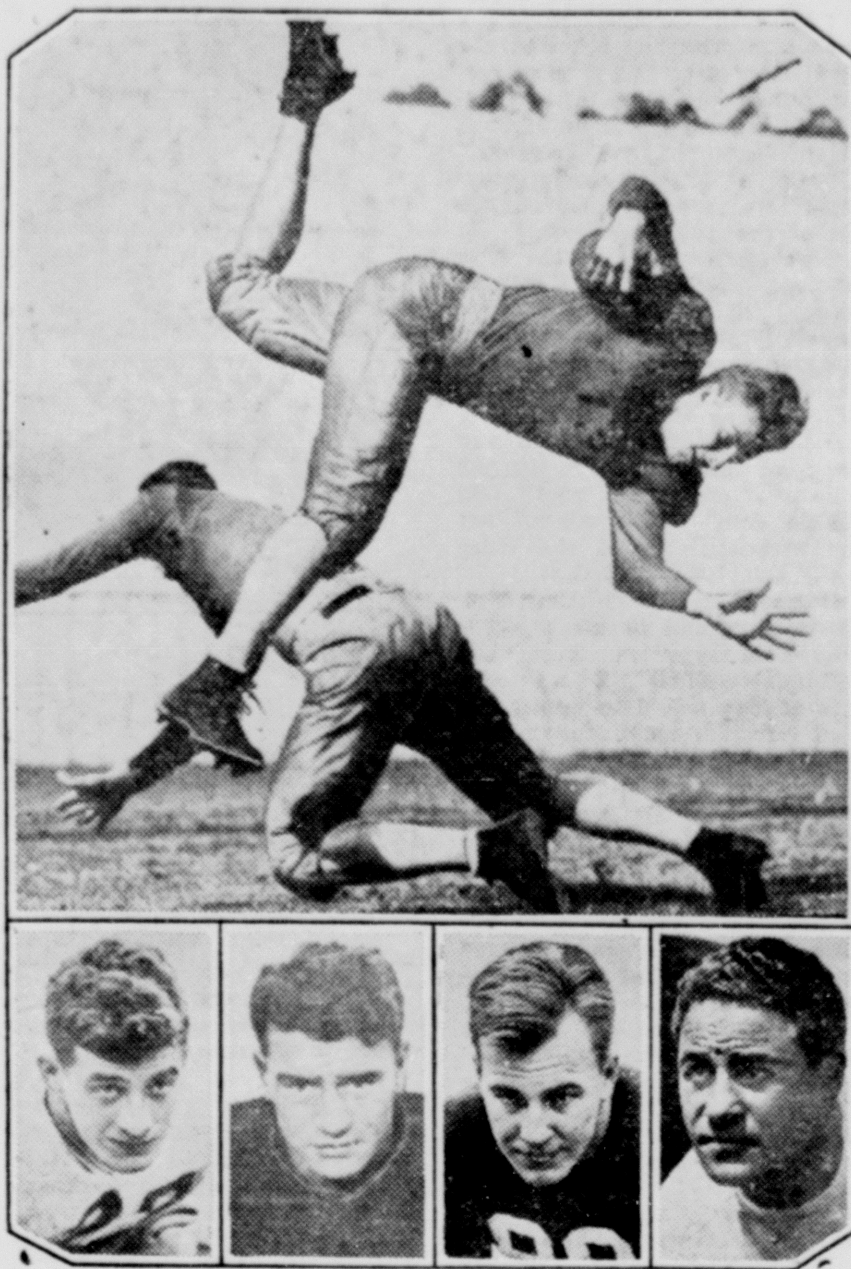

With outstanding offensive tactics, Stanley Kostka, Minnesota soph fullback, has eclipsed even Pug Lund, Gophers' captain and star halfback. Kostka seems a fit successor to the glory in which his famed line-plunging predecessors, Herb Joesting, Bronco Narski, and others, have basked.

Fame beckons Jay Berwanger, Chicago quarterback, who has been running the Maroons faultlessly this year. It was Jay who was personally responsible for the upset scored over Michigan.

THEN there's Corky Cornelius, Duke halfback, touted to be the best performer in the south. A topnotch open field runner and point-after-touchdown booter.

Also George Melnikovich and Fred Carideo of Notre Dame. After an inactive season, caused by illness, George is playing his halfback post in a way that must once have warmed the heart of the late Knute Rockne. Carideo, cousin of the famed Frank, former Irish quarter and now coach at Missouri, has been beating big Don Elser out of the regular fullback job.

Izzie Weinstein, Pitt vet fullback, is recognized as the best line plunger in the east. Besides, he's a place kicker of no mean ability. The big noise in Pitt's win from Southern California, Izzie's going places.

Ted Christoffersen, above, Washington State star halfback, is going places this year. Here his destination seems to be the turf. Below, left to right, are other stars who have made flying starts toward 1934 All-America posts—Bobby Grayson of Stanford, Fred Carideo of Notre Dame, George Barclay of U. of North Carolina and Izzie Weinstein of Pitt.

George Barclay, U. of North Carolina guard, has been termed by a group of southern coaches as the best guard in the south. An All-Southern guard last season, Barclay's a good bet to rate All-America laurels this year.

The southwest places great hopes on Bohn Hilliard, Texan, passer de luxe and a marvelous open-field runner. A big boon to Jack Chevigny in the latter's first year as coach at Texas U.

SPORT JOTTINGS:

May Carry U. S. Ocean Airmail

Shown under construction at Friedrichshafen, Germany, this huge Zeppelin, LZ-129, will inaugurate the first transoceanic air service between the United States and Europe, if plans discussed by Dr. Hugo Eckener, famed dirigible commander, and U. S. Postoffice Department officials, go through. The LZ-129, with a capacity of 50 passengers and several thousand pounds of mail, may take off on the first experimental Atlantic hop, from Lakehurst, N. J., next July.
